Consumers Can Help

The National Consumer-Retailer Council recently issued a bulletin setting forth rules for consumers to follow in helping the nation's food merchants meet food shortages. It says: "(1) Remember that your grocer is not responsible for food shortages. They hit him harder than they do you. His business depends on meeting his customers' needs. (2) Don't be impatient when your grocer is out of some commodity. Use your ingenuity. Substitute some other product for the scarce item. (3) Shun all black market practices. This is by far the most important rule. It is within the power of the consumer to wipe out the black market overnight. All she has to do is to recognize black market practices and refuse to pay more. Refuse to buy rationed foods unless you give ration stamps in return. (4) Finally, don't harass your grocer by asking why he is out of some particular food when the grocer around the corner has an ample supply."

The nation is fortunate indeed to have had a distribution system capable of withstanding the test of war without serious disruption in prices and operating efficiency. Out of pure self-interest, consumers should do everything in their power to help keep such a system intact.

No Tax Rabbits Left In Hat

After reading scholarly talks on our tax problems, and after listening to arguments for and against different methods of taxation, one fact stands out clearly—everybody and his dog must now pay sacrificial taxes, and government extravagance must be cut as drastically as taxes are increased.

If we fail to do this, we admit that we prefer to pass on to the boys at the front not only the risk of life and limb, but the obligation of an unnecessarily high public debt. We make no sacrifice in buying interest-bearing bonds which create debt and in perpetuating every boondoggling political project, while our fighting men sacrifice their lives and opportunities and families to preserve us safe from hardship at home.

Unless those enjoying war profits and war wages pay heavy taxes now to hold down the national debt and prevent the devaluation of the dollar, and unless government expenses are cut to the bone, there will be no chance of lowering the tax rate after the war so that industry and the people can have the tax relief necessary to encourage the accumulation of earnings and savings which are essential to industrial expansion on a peacetime basis that will provide permanent jobs for all.

No amount of rhetoric can change these facts.

A Juggling Act

With all due respect to the OPA and the perplexing problems with which it is confronted, the fact remains that many absurdly unfair rulings have been continued in force.

Its Highest Price Limitation order, referred to as MPR 330, is a classic example. Under that order, a store which sold a certain line of goods at certain prices on an arbitrarily fixed date in 1942, is not allowed to raise the price even though goods are no longer manufactured to sell at that price. On the other hand, a store that had no price limitation on the arbitrary date in 1942, can buy goods in question at manufacturers' current prices, and sell them at higher prices.

After such inconsistencies are pointed out to the OPA, one can only believe that the refusal to correct them is due to its hope that the public will think that it is holding prices down on certain commodities, when it is merely juggling figures and penalizing low cost retail stores. This does not benefit the consumers, nor control inflation.

The public understands the importance of rationing and wishes to cooperate, but it is confused and discouraged by the complicated rules and restrictions with which it is expected to comply and still carry on. It is instances like the foregoing, multiplied a thousand and ten thousand times, that are awakening the people to the danger of a growing and uncontrolled bureaucracy. OPA makes its own job harder by such practices.

The only hope of the people for correction of bureaucratic inefficiency, is to turn to Congress, because while bureau heads claim to have open minds, they leave policy decisions to subordinates with closed minds. The people are sick and tired of the endless red tape with which they have to contend in the simplest affairs of life, while straining to do their part, and work and save to help win this war.

Washington Nonsense

"These Washington bureaucratic bunglers fix the price of milk and butter, beef and poultry and then while the average weekly wages in the large cities throughout this nation go up 53 per cent and the cost of living goes up only 23 per cent, they put on a campaign to roll back the cost of food by paying subsidies at the expense of the producers and the sorely pressed taxpayers of this nation."—W. Lee O'Daniel, U. S. Senator, Texas.

The Story of America

James J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, recently said:

"The greatest thing we have had in America is to be found in our institutions of government—institutions which have left it to the individual to do his best, to work and save, to risk loss in order to earn profit. It is those institutions which in a few short decades, have enabled our people to transform wilderness into the mighty civilization we see all about us."

"Government has had its part to play—a most essential part, and in many ways a most helpful part—but the individual, the chance-taking, profit-seeking individual, is the source and mainspring of American achievement."

"There is no finer example of this than the story of the American railroads. Everyone recognizes, I think, that the mass transportation of railroads is responsible in large measure for the agricultural, industrial and commercial growth and development of the country. Certainly, without the railroads, things would have had to be done on a different and vastly limited scale. And without the tremendous transportation tasks the railroads are performing today, victory for us and our Allies would be beyond the range of possibility."

"Back of the railroads, responsible for what they do, responsible for their very existence, is the individual—the individual investor and organizer, the individual investor, the individual railroad man."

"Our railroads are a product of private capital. As the railroads stand today, 98 per cent of the investment in them—in their roadbeds as well as in their rolling stock—is private capital."

"Our railroads are a product of private planning. The plans for the vast network of rails that stretches out into every section of the land were formulated and carried out by groups of industrialists."

"The same is true of the plans started twenty years ago to meet such a transportation emergency as that which exists today. It is largely as a result of this organized private planning of railroads and shippers that the railroads have been able to handle a load twice as great as in the last war, with one-third less equipment and 500,000 fewer men than it took them—and to do a better job besides."

The story of the railroads is truly the story of America.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge...there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old saying 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today."

"How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our enemies more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a heck of a job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work."

"I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fightin' except the kind that's going to win the war."

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Miller

A welcome and exceptional star of the screen comes to the Everglades Theatre screen with the Owl Show, Saturday and the Sunday-Monday showing. Many of you remember this star for his outstanding performance in Knute Rockne, greatest story of football ever to be brought to the screen. We are speaking about Pat O'Brien, who with Ruth Warwick, Robert Ryan, Ames Ames, Russell Wade, Edward G. Robinson and Bruce Edwards and Richard Martin, brings one of the most dynamic stories of patriotism ever told. The story of Frank Cavanaugh, The Iron Major. And that is the title of the picture. "The Iron Major" is a thrilling story you'll never forget.

A few years back George Brunt, Brenda Marshall and George Tobias made a picture that enjoyed more than passing interest among the leading critics of America. That picture was "South of Nowhere." It was a story that gripped one compellingly and held you in the picture. It has been brought back to the screen and is due to make its bow at the Everglades this Tuesday-Wednesday.

The Thursday-Friday screenings brings Almir, John Carradine, Robert Ryan and Amelia Ward with the story of 5 "share-the-car" riders. ... Just plain folks, but all five of them have a tragic story to tell that make this show... "Gangway for Tomorrow" ... one of the most thrilling stories you've ever listened to.

For the Saturday screening we find Tom Tyler with Bob Steele in a Western thriller under the title "Raiders of the Range," which is said to be an above-the-average.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

In an editorial entitled, "Freedom From Food," Editor John Ford of the Florida Farm Bureau Bulletin presents some startling facts that deserve the thoughtful consideration of city folks as well as farmers.

He points out that 125 Florida dairies have gone out of business and that the sale of chick feed is off 80 percent compared with last year. Farmers and vegetable growers are quitting the soil in droves.

A South Florida county agent asked his vegetable farmers what their labor needs would be. Here is a typical reply: "I am so confused and discouraged I am not sure what I am going to need for the coming year. I am not so sure I will need anything. Last year I produced over 3000 tons of 'A' crops and lost half in the fields for lack of labor, repairs and transportation. Price control also means that I must cut down or quit completely. I cannot pay prevailing wages for farm help, take OPA prices for my crops and stay in business. I know there are hundreds of farmers in this area in the same fix. Many have already quit the business and gone to the shipyards."

With experienced farm hands as scarce as hen's teeth, materials of poor quality and decrepit to get, packing houses undermanned and the whole agricultural picture a grand and glorious mess, it is little wonder our farmers are heart-sick and discouraged. Little relief is in sight, farmers continue to be drafted, conflicting rules, regulations and restrictions issued by impractical bureaucratic theorists impose greater handicaps and if the trend continues, Editor Ford sees the possibility of food stamps and dollar bills when grocery stores find their shelves empty of fresh vegetables, eggs, meat and poultry. "Maybe the OPA is not to blame," says Ford, "Under the President's ill-advised 'Hold the line' order, OPA price men who know that perishables cannot be handled and treated like staples, have no choice and little authority."

"Maybe even the President has little choice. Maybe some of the labor leaders decided he should hold the line—on everything but wages. Maybe we could get the President to take over all farms for a few days, authorize substantial price increases and then turn them back to private operation."

"But for fear this may not happen, and for fear vegetable growers, poultrymen and dairymen may not be able to continue operation at such losses, we give here a recipe which should help us use up ration stamps and excess money after corner grocery stores are empty."

Brown Points en Casserole. Mince 3 fresh dollar bills. Shred 5 brown food stamps. Stir in slowly 10 each of blue and red ration points.—Rub the inside of the bowl with promises that relief will be granted.—Dine together 6 economic data with 4 ration tokens. Add one L22, one MPR 292 and 8 priorities.—Stir together adding banana oil.—Season with pepper, IF YOU LIKE PEPPER.—Sprinkle freely with words about freedom from want.—Half-bake slowly over coals of the New Deal.—Garnish with crisp $5.00 bills, and serve with expensive food subsidy Champagne (193).

—Enjoyment of the dish will be heightened if it is served by the Fireside to the quivering strains of "Don't Change Ours."

"If this dish is not to your liking, Mr. City Man," warned Ford, "you had better help farmers get rid of the unworkable regulations which are hamstringing food production. Remember, farmers will continue to eat, they will simply reduce operations to one cow, a dozen chickens and a backyard garden and go fishing. You are the fellow who will go hungry when the nation's producing acres return to weeds."

"Whatever else the Stork may do, he does not bring vegetables. They have to be grown on farms by farmers who take long chances in producing them. Because of crop hazards and market gluts, the vegetable grower has always expected to lose money two-thirds of the time, then hit 'right' and get well on a temporarily good market. He has to come up some time for air. If we tell him he can't come up, then we surely can't blame him for not going back to start with. But he has to grow food before you can eat it, and nearly everybody needs to eat. Freedom from inflation, yes, but surely not Freedom from Food."

And folks, John Ford is telling it to you straight, you don't have to take his word for it, just go out and ask the first ten farmers you meet and boy, if you don't get an earful you never will, and most of 'em will tell you they're planting pepper this spring, to be plowed under in the fall.

Then for seven days and nights they all shoveled coal trying to get the ship righted and only succeeded in getting it up to 30 degrees from a 90-degree angle. In that condition, they lobbied into the nearest port, which was in Newfoundland. Spectators who witnessed its arrival stated that it was one of those peculiarities that sometimes occur that it ever reached port.

Western Counties Of District Very Busy In Stuckey's Race

The latest "Stuckey-For-Congress Club" in the Sixth District was formed last week at Ft. Myers, according to word received at Stuckey headquarters here today. The movement which has started in Lee County, and is expected to spread into other West Coast counties, is spearheaded by a group of prominent citizens, including W. H. H. Reynolds, J. B. Johnston, R. E. Kurtz, Jackson G. Sells, R. V. Lee, Bryant Pierce, E. M. Ballard and others of Ft. Myers. According to Mr. Stuckey, who stopped here today, en route to Ft. Pierce and Vero Beach, "They are really getting busy over there on the West Coast," said Mr. Stuckey, "and I am finding that friendship and business contacts made over a period of thirty years are really bearing fruit in this campaign. My friends tell me that they are willing to try a practical business man in Congress for once, who doesn't smother them with promises but who is willing to work just as hard for them in Washington as he has worked making a living in farming and business."

Mr. Stuckey proudly refers to himself as a "Farmer-Business Man" candidate, and he can talk crops, and markets with the best of the farmers, for his various affiliated companies control about four thousand acres of farm land in the Sixth District. He ships his own brands of celery and string beans in carload lots to the leading markets in this country and Canada.

There's a thrill in reading that statement in battle communiques... but we're not really surprised, because we're confident of what our men will do over there.

But suppose there were daily communiques on the home front... on what YOU are doing? Would there be any "Tre-treats" or "Tea-time" losses? Our battle line here is the production line and the supporting lines are our conservation efforts, our War Bond purchases and other essential home front war work. Conservation is very important... conservation of food, of manpower, transportation, communications and critical materials. By eliminating waste of electric service, you conserve the manpower necessary to provide that service. Ask any company representative how you can avoid waste in your use of electricity.

Make sure that your personal war communiques reads each day: "Advances on all major fronts."

Don't WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT'S STILL CHEAP!

FLORIDA POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

A. R. RAY ROEBUCK

CANDIDATE

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

35 Years a Resident and 30 Years a Taxpayer of Palm Beach County

QUALIFIED BY TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

As a candidate for this office I consider it my duty to submit to the voters and taxpayers some facts relative to the office, which should be brought to the attention of the public since we are dealing with the people's office and the people's money.

In this office the Clerk receives his compensation and the emoluments are paid from fees charged on services rendered by the office, and the law requires the Clerk to REPORT AND PAY OVER TO THE COUNTY ALL FEES IN EXCESS OF HIS SALARY OF $7,500 AND THE EXPENSES OF THE OFFICE.

In 1940 when the present Clerk was NOT in office, the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Board appointed All the Clerks of the Circuit Courts in Florida its Agent and Trustee in their respective Counties to act for it in carrying out the Provisions of the Murphy Act. The present

THE PRESENT CLERK FOR THE YEARS 1941, 1942, AND 1943, CLAIMED AS HIS COMPENSATION, HIS SALARY (TO WHICH HE WAS ENTITLED) $22,356.15

AND IN ADDITION THEREOF, RECEIVED FEES AS AGENT FOR THE EVERGLADES DRAINAGE DISTRICT $13,446.65

AND AS TRUSTEE FOR INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT BOARD (TO WHICH HE WAS NOT ENTITLED) $35,892.50

THIS IS NEARLY $10,000 PER MONTH FOR 36 MONTHS

THE Item of $13,446.65 (Trustee and Agency Fees, to which the Clerk was not entitled) was NOT REPORTED AS THE LAW REQUIRES since it is considered by the present Clerk to be his PRIVATE BUSINESS.

AND WILL INCLUDE ALL EARNINGS AS AGENT FOR THE TRUSTEES OF THE I. I. BOARD AND THE EVERGLADES DRAINAGE DISTRICT, regardless of what any Attorney General might have advised, BECAUSE I HOLD THAT THE LAW IS:

(Quotations of the law) A public office is a public trust, and

"Time of salaried officers, consumed in work incidental to official duties, during office hours, belongs solely to employer, and all fees therefore inure to employer's benefit, unless there is Statutory direction to the contrary. There is no statutory direction to the contrary in Florida."

"The law is well settled in this country that while one's right to sue is a substantive right that may be enforced in appropriate proceedings, yet a public officer has no estate in his office, that the unsalaried fees or commissions accruing to him therefrom are not his property, and that the Law requiring them to be paid into the treasury and a salary paid in lieu thereof is not taking private property for public use without compensation. It is also well settled in this state that fees collected by officers represent the charge which the state makes for services rendered by it through its officers, and constitute a fund subject to the control of the state and to be applied as the Legislature directs."

"A public officer is bound to perform the duties of his office, no matter how onerous they may be, for the compensation fixed by law."

So whoever advised any Clerk of the Circuit Court of this State that he could possibly receive from the fees of his office a salary of more than $7,500 per annum was not made a thorough study of the law. There being no line of decisions holding contrary to the above.

IF ELECTED I WILL SERVE YOU HONESTLY AND TO THE VERY BEST OF MY ABILITY. YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED.

FORESIGHT AND COMMON SENSE

A front page editorial titled "Foresight and Common Sense" appeared last week in a West Palm Beach paper—TIFF. The editorial is full of facts and is being printed herewith for your consideration:

PALM BEACH COUNTY is becoming too great an "industry" to be hampered by the old fashioned brand of politics under which we have been operating ever since Ponce de Leon had his great disappointment. Particularly we point to agriculture. In a year's time the World has begun measuring Palm Beach County in food values. As a result the County received an A. Agricultural Award from Uncle Sam for last year's production. Palm Beach County agriculture brings millions and millions of dollars to this area. With the demand after the war going to be greater than ever now for American foodstuffs, it is safe to predict those millions will continue to roll into Palm Beach County.

Those millions are going to mean greater agricultural development in the County. Bob Crech, old time and successful Glades grower, said on the Cater Furniture Agricultural program the other night, the time would come in the not too distant future when the Glades would have a population of a half million.

No such development can be brought about with so little done in building roads. The roads program is the keynote of the future success of agriculture in the County. Without passable County roads stretching in every direction, farming can go just so far and no farther.

This bewhiskered idea of sprinkling a batch of rock, gravel, asphalt and oil around election time is past. Glades growers and residents are keenly conscious of that today—more so than ever. As result many are fed up with the old "pork barrel" politics played in the past. What they want is a road program that progresses month in and month out, year after year. If they are going to get the necessary cooperation out of the County Commission (and it's in the Commission's lap to spearhead a continuing road program) they realize that personalities must be brushed aside—that the right man must represent them on the Commission. This man must be aggressive, efficient and have a lot of vision liberally interspersed with horse sense.

It doesn't seem likely that the Glades, which have grown to enormous proportions, are going to content themselves any longer with 1-horse politics that have produced only a County road building program that feebly meets the demands of today and tomorrow.

Palm Beach County is beginning to recognize just what a great asset the Glades are to it. When a County road program is started that will meet the needs of the present and future of one of the world's greatest agricultural areas, the citizens as a whole will support such a plan. It will be backed up with dollars. And the residents of the Glades can always be assured that the people of West Palm Beach will be behind them 100% in an over-all, continuous road building program.

In view of these facts, from where we sit, it looks like present dictatorial politics that springs a little rock and a little gravel just before election time are "on the way out."

Paul Rardin, Canal Point Editor, Candidate for County Commissioner, believes a definite road program is "The Keynote of the Future Success of Agriculture in the County" and will work co-operatively with the East Coast in securing these roads.

REGULATIONS RESTRICT

As an example: Cabbage sell for not more than 15¢ in Belle Glade; sell in most markets retail for 5¢; beans sell here for 4¢ to 6¢ and retail for 15¢ to 25¢; celery, which sells here for 24¢ stalk, retails up to 25¢ a stalk. These prices barely let the grower regain his cost of harvest and selling, with cost to grow written off as a loss.

With employment of labor at the saturation point throughout the country and at high wages, based on previous experience, all spring green foods would normally bring a profit to the farmer and still allow wide distribution.

Here's what happens: Mike Pinder, a dealer in a town of 10 to 15,000, takes his truck to the wholesale center for a mixed load of vegetables, which is all his commodity will take in one day. He buys celery, cabbage, tomatoes, onions, potatoes, beans, radish, turnips and whatnot. He pays ceiling, adds the proper charge for transportation, adds his profit and sells to the local stores, at prescribed ceiling.

225% OF QUOTA

(Continued from page 1) on it. It has been found that crews have their own ideas as to what name their ship should have, and we don't blame them. A great deal is made over clubs and organizations throughout the state by headquarters having achieved a goal in the sale of war bonds. Milton Campbell, in a letter to the state chairman points out that the method of selling in this community is a community effort in which all organizations get behind and push together. Milton substantiates the effect-tiveness of our methods by the results obtained.

Further, he points out that the contest at the "Fair" proves the spirit of working together of the community which are approximately $25,000 in "E" bonds were sold immediately following the finish of the Fourth Drive.

Those participating are listed elsewhere in the Herald.

Missionary Society In Program Meeting

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held its regular meeting at the church Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Rashley presiding. Mrs. Luther Jones was in charge of the program on "Christian Europe Yesterday and Tomorrow." Others taking part were Mrs. Rashley, Mrs. James Darden, Mrs. J. E. Dillard, and Mrs. Vernon Jones. Mrs. Rashley announced that the next meeting will be held in the home of some member. Mrs. Darden reported that an Easter box of clothes has been sent to an orphan in Aresdai that the group is sponsoring. Announcement was made that a study course is being conducted this week at the church for all age groups. The sessions are held each night at 7:45 o'clock.

Commercial Agents Want Spiffy Offices, Blonds and Phones

Railroad Commercial Agents located in populous sections are usually given a luxurious office, with a blonde secretary, telephone and a "swindle sheet" which is scrutinized with one eye and that one slightly closed. Commercial agents in the Glades have neither the office, blonde nor the telephone, even at home, but they are glorified messenger boys, traveling bank tellers, billing clerks, typists for diversion orders, and occasionally solicitors of freight.

This system of filling the job is unorthodox and was used most effectively by a former resident of the Glades to such an extent that successors as well as competitive agents did not dare change.

Now the local railroad boys, following a "blowing of the roof" by one large ship, have delays due to the system have resigned as billing clerks with the hope that they may enjoy the prerequisites and dignity that such offices normally rate in a table of organization.

If you run across an argument about this stop and think, because it may be good and you may have a suggestion. We

Why don't the railroads give the group ONE office with what telephone and facilities to lend their Commercial Agents' positions their proper dignity and the public its proper service with a minimum of effort?

Tallahassee, Fla. — W. B. "Babe" Douglass, member of the Florida Railroad Commission and formerly a popular sheriff and law enforcement officer in Columbia County, has announced that he would seek re-election as Railroad Commissioner in the Democratic Primary next May. In his announcement Mr. Douglass stated:

"I am indeed grateful to my many friends in all sections of the State for the unusually large vote given me in previous elections. In seeking re-election as a member of the commission I wish to reiterate previous statements that if I am re-elected I will continue to administer the law fairly and impartially to everyone appearing before our board.

"During the present war emergency matters vitally affecting the war effort come before our commission daily. I feel that the experience I have gained as a member of the commission will enable me to solve these problems in such a manner that the solution will be of the greatest benefit to the people and the war effort.

"I expect to see as many of my friends as possible during the campaign and will be grateful indeed for their continued support."

WAVES In Action

Yeoman

This Yeoman, Third Class, is receptionist to the "Cominch" Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Fleet, at the Navy Department, Washington, D. C. He is a young man, one chevron and crossed quills under an eagle—doesn't show in the photograph because it is worn on the left sleeve, but is reproduced in the inset. The WAVES need men of such caliber as secretaries, stenographers, typists and clerks in the offices of high-ranking officers as well as for numerous other duties. A new booklet for young women interested in the WAVES is available at Navy Recruiting Stations. "Home Test" For WAVES Prospects: 10 "Aye, Ayes" Needed To Pass Exam

WAVE-minded girls wondering about their eligibility, may give themselves a simple "home examination" and get a good idea of whether they would be acceptable for this branch of the U. S. Navy.

It isn't an infallible or complete test, of course, but if a girl can answer these ten questions affirmatively, she can be reasonably confident the WAVES will be glad to have her:

Can you prove you are a citizen—native-born or naturalized?

Are you between 20 and 36? (If 20, written consent of parents or guardian is necessary.)

Are you single or married and without children under 18? (Wives of enlisted men are eligible, but not wives of Naval officers from ensign to 2d.)

Can you furnish three character references?

Have you attended high school or business school for at least two years?

Are you at least 5 feet tall and do you weigh at least 95 pounds, with weight in proportion to general body build?

Can you read with either eye at 6 feet with both eyes at 12 feet what perfect eyes can read at 20 feet?

Can you hear whispered words at 15 feet?

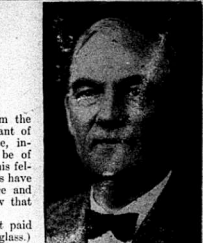

Are your teeth sound? (Dental repairs, except no barbs)

WAVE aspirants answering "yes" to these questions, or who are in doubt, should write, visit or telephone the Navy Recruiting Station, 207 Post Office Bldg. (telephone 2-2032), West Palm Beach.

Continue to profit from the services of a public servant of proven ability, experience, integrity, and a desire to be of service to the public and his fellow citizens. His decisions have been based upon evidence and he will continue to follow that policy.

JUDGE J. OLLIE EDMUNDS

Believes: That no one is indispensable to our country except the American who is fighting and willing to die if need be to preserve the nation his forefathers built upon the idea of government of the people, by the people and for the people.

HE BELIEVES: That a man who stirs up racial strife and discord in violation of Southern tradition is a menace to the state and nation and to the war effort and should be retired from public life.

HE BELIEVES: In the traditional policy of southern Democrats that the party principle of white supremacy must be maintained.

HE BELIEVES: That the people of Florida will protect their heritage of Americanism, won on the field of battle and at the polls.

HE BELIEVES: That today labor and business are slaves of government instead of the government being the servant of the people. Labor's hard-won gains over half a century must not be lost by legislation that gives bureaucrats the power to deny labor's right to bargain freely with the employer.

HE BELIEVES: That free enterprise is the backbone of American progress and prosperity. He believes that the power-greedy hands of the bureaucrats must come off the throttle and that operating control of farms, American business and industry should be returned to those who built them and are qualified to run them.

HE BELIEVES: That the future is lost if the continuation of socialistic tendencies means the return of our fighting forces to WPA jobs instead of jobs supplied by Florida's farms, businesses and industries.

HE BELIEVES: In the Jeffersonian principle of the rights of the states to govern themselves. He is opposed to a paternalistic, dictatorial government, which sets up in Florida a vast political machine of non-civil service federal employees.

Easter Services. At Methodist Church

The Community Methodist Church will hold its annual Easter services beginning Sunday morning, April 2.

There will be no service Sunday night, but beginning Monday day services will be held each night except Saturday. The climax of the services will come on Friday night when communion will be observed.

Pastor Cross, in commenting on the Easter services, said: "The entire community is invited to share these religious services. Whether the sermons are not in series, they follow each other closely; therefore we urge attendance as possible."

"Belle Of The Glades" Rests In Watery Grave

The Belle of the Glades, the B-25, in which little Mike Murphy had gone on some forty-four missions before he received a shrapnel wound in the left arm, rests now at the bottom of the Pacific in pieces.

In a letter to his father, Mike said: "A couple of days after my accident a fellow pilot spread the 'Belle of the Glades' over two miles of the Pacific Ocean."

Mike seems to be doing fine and will get to Australia where he can give the girls a treat.

Besides this, the State Road Department has taken over the Brown Farm road—which is a dead-end road—and is just completing resurfacing this, at a cost of many thousands.

Mr. Doyle Crocker, County Commissioner in remarking

CARMICHAEL WILL MAKE OFFICE RACE

M. D. Carmichael, three times mayor of West Palm Beach and former state representative, Tuesday made formal announcement of his candidacy for representative from the Sixth Congressional District.

The 58-year-old attorney and Everglades farmer listed a number of points on which he has-ing his candidacy. They are included in an advertisement in this issue.

Mr. Carmichael expressed opposition to the so-called "New Deal" and declared that the "next few years will be the most crucial in the history of this country. Competent men will be needed to represent the people in Congress."

Born in Billingsville, Ind., June 23, 1885, Mr. Carmichael came to West Palm Beach 34 years ago and has practiced law here since that time. He worked his way through the University of Indiana, obtaining A. B. and L. L. B. degrees in 1908, and worked his way through the University of Chicago, obtaining the degree of Doctor of Law in 1909.

He served three times as mayor of this city when the office was an elective one by the people. He served one-year terms as mayor in 1913-14, and 1921. He also has served as city and county attorney.

During his two terms in the State Legislature as representative from Palm Beach County, he took a leading part in the reapportionment of state representatives, thereby giving South Florida more equal representation in the Legislature; the passage of the Constitutional amendment providing a 10-million levy instead of a three-million levy for school purposes; the drawing and passage of the present Riparian Rights Act; the passage of a bill allowing W. J. Conners to build Conners Highway as a toll road, which did much toward opening up the Everglades.

Mr. Carmichael also took an active part in the defeat of a bill proposing to give a section of land in the Everglades to each county in the State.

Mr. Carmichael is married and has two sons and a daughter. His two sons and a son-in-law are serving in the Navy.

The Congressional candidate has developed and operated a large farm in the Glades for the past 20 years and has bred registered saddle horses for many years, shipping them all over the country.

"I know agriculture and livestock from a practical standpoint and not from the theoretical view," Mr. Carmichael stated.

"Bombs Away!" These bombs are leaving an American "fortress" somewhere over Jap installations. The bombs we make today will be dropping on German cities, Japanese islands in a very short time. The home front must fashion them and pay for them with War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

L. L. Stuckey of Pahokee

Candidate For

CONGRESS

In The Recently Created

Sixth District

Of Florida

L. L. (Lennie) Stuckey, a farmer and business man for 33 years in the Lake Okeechobee Region of Palm Beach County, conducts his campaign with the endorsement of folks who have known him for years.

Lennie knows the Glades' problems by actually being a part of its activities -- by every-day contact.

This district is largely one of fishermen, cattle men and farmers; its coastal areas are attractive to the sportsman and winter visitor -- there's no conflict of interests, and the Glades believes Lennie can do a good job for all interior interests and carry out the wishes of the coastal areas satisfactorily.
